SPECIAL INTEREST INFORMATION

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Looking back on the Holidays this year, I am reminded of a little story I once heard. A man and his child go out to buy a donkey and once they buy the donkey they start to walk it home. While walking they passed a group of people who laughed and said "Why aren't you riding the donkey you fools?", so hearing this the man put his son on the donkey, a little later they passed another group who started yelling at the son, "You ungrateful child, let the old man ride the donkey!" so the son got down and let his father ride. Again they passed another group who said, "Look at that man, treating his son like a slave". Not knowing how to keep people from being angry for really no apparent reason both the father and son got on the donkey when they ran into yet another irate group. "How dare you treat that poor creature with such disrespect by placing both your burdens upon his back!" At this point both the father and son got down from the donkey and started to carry him when another crowd came by and started to laugh, the donkey got upset and kicked himself free and fell into the river.

MUSINGS FROM A MATURE STUDENT

By Wanda Cousins

Well the holidays are over, a new year has just begun and with it come to resolutions that are made only to be broken. I hope Christmas was enjoyable for all and that you each took time to reflect on the needs of others, especially the homeless and the hungry. Now is the time to buckle down and make the second semester really beneficial. Too many parties, too much socializing and too little studying add up to disaster, which I'm sure no one wants. While on the subject of disaster let's talk about the subject of smoking areas at George Brown. There are NO smoking areas at all inside of G.B.C. and that includes the lobby on Adelaide Street, the stair exits, or any other big enough space to be shelter from the cold.

Before any of the smokers start to groan about whether the author of this article is a non-smoker, let me assure you that I have been smoking for 20 years and probably will for quite some time to come, I do stress that I too would not mind being warm and comfortable while I have my cigarette. However, rules are rules, and meant for all including myself. If I, and many others, wish to smoke we have to step outside and it is only fair to ask the few rebellious among you to do the month: You hold the same. It is definitely not worth having the police come down and laying charges for something so simple to avoid in the first place. Besides who, especially a student, has that kind of money, to waste it like that? I know I don't. Thought for the power in your hands to change the world. Bye for now.

STUDENT EMERGENCY FUND

The Fund will be administered by a Bursary Committee of staff and students and Audrey Albert, Manager of Financial Aid. To raise awareness and dollars for the Fund, we are sponsoring two events which we hope will take place every January/February to ensure a constant source of funds.

The first, is a Raffle. We have had wonderful prizes donated, including a year's full time tuition OR $1000 cash, a Trip for 2 to Cuba, and many others. Tickets are $2 and will be available from January 6, at all campuses.

The Second, is a Valentine's Dance on February 11, for all staff and students, at which the draw will be made. Tickets are $4 and available at all campuses through the S.A.C. Offices.

St. James and Nightingale Watch for announcements for the "Speakers' Corner" at your campus. HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO BE HEARD. We will present a video that is representative of your views at a Student Life Advisory open meeting in March.

Dates for Nightingale have been set for January 27 and 28 12-2pm.
Dates for St. James have been set for January 18 and 19 12-2pm.

Special Notes

I want to congratulate all the S.A.C. executives and members who organized and participated in the O.C.C.S.P.A. Conference held at G.B.C. in November. Jocelyn Dance did an excellent job of organizing and hosting and with Jason Richards, welcomed Student Government Representatives from 19 Colleges across Ontario. It was an extremely well organized and successful event and I had the pleasure of meeting with the group for a short workshop on Motivation and Leadership.

I was very impressed with the calibre of the Student Leaders, by their questions and comments, and their understanding of the current and future issues facing Community College Students in Ontario.

The meetings and conferences that your S.A.C. Executives attend both within the College and outside, are an important aspect of their leadership. As a member of the G.B.C. Community, I commend your Executives for their commitment of time and energy.

I also want to congratulate Jennifer Stellings and Dave Steele of Graphic Arts for the successful "E Street Cafe". The tremendous response by students will, I hope, lead to future events across the college. If there is any way the Student Life Advisory Committee can be of assistance, please contact Franky at 867-2674

with

Tim Kemp

Being the holiday season, there is a preponderance of new films coming out in the weeks ahead.

A film to really look out for is the new Kenneth Branagh (Dead Again) film, Peters Friends. This is a British version of the big chill. The advance word on this film is very positive. It opens January 15th.

Another film that shows lots of promise, even if it is in the vain of mindless entertainment, is National Lampoon's Loaded Weapon. This is a spoof of the Lethal Weapon films as well as take-off on Basic Instinct and The Silence of the Lambs. This should prove to be 90 minutes of hilarious drive.

Home Alone 2

Finally after two years of anticipation, My idol is back!!

Last weekend I had the opportunity to go see the highly anticipated sequel to "Home Alone", the aptly named "Home Alone 2".

I left my house to go to the theater with a heart full of joy. Finally, I get to see my little hero in a new and totally different adventure. I happily paid my $8 admission fee, my head to full of joyful semi-orgasmic thoughts to notice the high cost. I delayed my trek to my seat for long enough to get some popcorn and soda at the candy bar, purchased in a semi-dream state so once again not noticing the huge tab. I finally settled down in my seat to await the arrival of my little stud buddy.

Hmmm. A cartoon. When did they start having these again?

OK, here comes the movie.

I picked up a copy of last month's Dialog and found that the review I had written on the "Malcolm X" movie, was not the same as had been submitted. The copies I had given to the newspaper in print was edited to make any corrections needed on the Dialog. The final copy was not entirely in line with the original. Meaning that the content left out words, and made some painful spelling errors. The first reading of the copy, I was left feeling insulted by the editing errors, which were obvious. Insulted is a strong word but it suits this particular occasion. Referring to my thoughts, when I realized that the errors attempted to DISCREDIT both the writer and the subject. It is my belief that in some cases when a writer appears to neglect basic errors within their own writing, they may have neglected basic elements of their subject. The review's errors were not a result of one person's error but of errors from various levels, myself included. A good friend said "You must take responsibility for your lack of action", in this respect meaning that you should make sure that you see what is going out before it gets out. After speaking to Bill Windrem and Jocelyn Dance, whom apologize for the situation I understood what my good friend meant.

Although this incident was negative, it reinforced a very valuable lesson. That we are all in this together, and that it's ultimately important to realize this, so we can all do our parts in the production of a successful newspaper. Some good work has come out of Dialog, and with ethical teamwork we can continue.

To close I would like to wish the PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT AND SUCCESS TRAINING NETWORK, The Marketing Network, The African-Caribbean Association, The Fact Network, Dialog, Administration, S.A.C., The Business Administration Small Business Management class (Bu1240), and everyone else a very happy holidays.

RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS NEW GREATEST HITS PACKAGE WHAT A SELL OUT!!

I must tell you that I was seriously bummed out when I learned that the RHCP were putting out a greatest hits package. This was a band that I had watched go against the grain since 1985, and to put out a greatest hits package seemed to me like a move better to bands like Chicago.

The first thing that I noticed when I picked up the tape was lead singer Anthony's flexed out torso on the cover. This confuses me. Are they trying to tap the highly lucrative teen sex symbol market. Will the next album be by the New Chili Peppers on the Block. This whole album concept smells of corporate meddling. It sucks.

Regardless of this, there is still the music. It is a fairly good collection of tunes spanning the history of the band. It would be a good album for people fresh on the RHCP bandwagon, but not for people that have been into them for a while and own the albums that don't have "Under the Bridge" on them. So I give this album a thumbs down for it's blatant commercialism. There is nothing left to do now but just go home, put on Freaky Styley, carefully place my sock on my penis and jump around for old times sake.

Information From OCCSPA

Rae Cuts Back on a Promise

Last month the NDP government delivered a hard blow to post-secondary institutions with funding cuts, increasing tuition fees and eliminating grants to the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP).

The Ontario Community College Student Parliamentary Association, (OCCSPA/APECCO) is opposed to these drastic cuts. OCCSPA/APECCO President, Doug Wilson, said "Anything less than two percent is an insult to the colleges. Such significant budget cuts mean that colleges will be forced to examine alternative means of funding which could result in cuts to necessary student services such as Library hours, parking, and equipment."

Jocelyn Dance, president of George Brown College's Student Administrative Council says, "I have great difficulty accepting these provincial funding cuts. Especially when the Rae government promised to freeze tuition as an election campaign promise." In 1991 alone, 147,000 students relied on OSAP.

August 20, 1990 Rae was quoted in the Globe and Mail, "True fiscal irresponsibility is leaving people unemployed and idle and hungry and over taxed at a time when we are in a recession and we have political means to turn that around..."

OCCSPA/APECCO students are the future of Ontario but rising costs of education and low student confidence in their ability to afford to continue their studies means Ontario's future is in jeopardy.

OCCSPA/APECCO is a student-run, bilingual organization committed to the pursuit of excellence in education. OCCSPA/APECCO represents over 10,000 community college students throughout Ontario.

HERE'S HOW OSAP IS GOING TO CHANGE

This Year, most OSAP students get a grant or a loan or both.

In 1993/94, most OSAP students won't get grants, but they will have improved access to loan. Also, students who need to borrow more than $5,570 a year, on the average, won't have to pay back anything over that amount for that year. And students who have child-care expenses or have special needs because of disabilities will get bursaries to help with their expenses.

This Year, a total of $668 million is available to help students.

In 1993/93, a total of $800 million will be available to students who need help paying for their post-secondary education.

This Year, students who earn more than $19,100 a year after they graduate can't get any help paying the interest on their provincial loans. Students who earn less than that can apply to have the government pay 100% of the interest on their loans for 18 months.

In 1993/94, students who earn up to $20,100 a year will be able to get help paying 100% of the interest on their provincial loans and students who earn between $20,100 and $35,000 will be able to get help paying part of the interest they owe. This help will still be available for up to 18 months.

This year, there is a $2.7 million available to help students who are taking academic upgrading programs.

In 1993/94, there will be double the help-$5.4 million-available to these students in groups that have been found to need extra help, for example, Aboriginal students, francophones, persons with disabilities, people who get social assistance, sole-support parents, and visible minorities.

This year, the Ontario Work-Study Program has a budget of $2.7 million. This program pays 75% of the salary of a student who works part-time at a college or university. The school pays the other 25%.

In 1993/94, the program will work the same way, but the budget will be doubled to $5.4 million. The extra money will go to students in the groups mentioned above.

BULLETIN #1

Campus Development

Phase One

TO ALL STAFF, STUDENTS AND ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Shaping our future

Today the Minister of Colleges and Universities, Richard Allen, announced a $13-million capital funding grant for George Brown College, to be paid over the next three years. These funds are to be spent in moving Kensington programs to St. James and Casa Loma campuses. We will receive $2.5-million this year, $5.5-million next year, and $5-million the year after. We have not yet received funds for relocation of Nightingale.

This grant confirms the important role that our college plays in education and training in the community and the province. It signals the start of our Campus Development Plan - an exciting, multi-phase, three- to four-year effort to develop better physical facilities, improve student life and lower college operating costs by moving from four campuses to two. Over the next few years, we will prepare George Brown College for the future by upgrading our buildings, improving classrooms, creating new facilities and relocating some programs.

Environmental experts have examined all college space. They reviewed how the space is used, how often it is used, and how well it serves the needs of staff and students. Employees at every level in every area of the college, as well as students, have contributed their ideas in special focus groups.

Very soon we will be finalizing the reports from the focus groups, developing recommendations, and presenting the Master Space Plan to the Board of Governors for approval.

The Master Space Plan will set a schedule for the relocations from Kensington to St. James and Casa Loma and determine where programs and services should be located. At the same time, we will continue to seek sources of funding that will allow us to eventually relocate Nightingale programs to St. James and Casa Loma campuses, and fully implement the Campus Development Plan.

A master plan - phase one

During the next four months, we will prepare new space for the Retail Meat Cutting program in the School of Hospitality building at St. James, and upgrade space at 160 Kendal at Casa Loma for the Furniture Production and Design, Woodworking and Finishing, and Upholstery programs. All of these programs are currently located at Kensington.

In addition to preparing new space for Meat Cutting and Furniture, Phase One will create several specially designed prototype classrooms. An advisory committee made up of staff and students has given input into the design. Upon completion, these clean, comfortable, well-equipped rooms will be timetabled for use by all divisions, and feedback from students and staff who use the classrooms will be incorporated into the final design.

A team effort

I would like to thank the staff and students who have participated in the focus groups and have contributed their time and energy to the development of the Master Space Plan. Please read the questions and answers on the following pages. If you have questions or concerns about any part of the plan, contact your focus group coordinator, your SAC president or union representative, or send written questions to the President's Office. Campus Development will also be discussed at Town Hall meetings to be held in January for staff at all campuses.

VARSITY

VOLLEYBALL: Bump-Set-Spike !!!

Women's Volleyball

The volleyball season is a long one by college standards. Since mid September, the women have been working hard on their individual, and team skills.

Coach Cavers said "We've survived the crunch of major tests or exams and are looking forward to the busy months in Jan. and Feb. playing across the province.

Men's Volleyball

After an up and down first half, the men's team still finished with a better than .500 record, 4 wins, 3 losses. Coach Loctocky said, "I believe we can beat the teams in our division. The players are starting to gel, and are looking forward to being a competitive force in the play-offs.

Basketball

Women January 20, 1993 6:00 p.m.

Men January 20, 1993 8:00 p.m.

All games at St. James Gym.

Women's Basketball

After 7 games the women's record stands at 3 wins and 4 losses. They are tied for 4th spot in Division 1 league play. "Injuries and inconsistent play has hurt the performance of the team but with time off to rest, the team will be ready for the second half of the season" say's Coach Delas.

Men's Basketball

The first half of the season has been a learning experience for both the coaches and the players. "We must go back to fundamentals," stresses coach Da Silva. "There have been moments of good execution however, in most games erratic play, and a lack of discipline on the court have hurt the team." The players look forward to 1993, with the hope of rectifying their disappointing start.
